

Safety Rules

Each engagement or game where new players are present will begin with a safety briefing and equipment demonstration.

- Players are not allowed within 5 feet of each other; the aggressor is required to retreat or be ejected from the game
- Shoes are required...no open toe sandals, bare feet, flip-flops or Crocs
- No foul or abusive language will be tolerated
- Players are not allowed to fire taggers while reaching around an obstacle from a hidden position; the player must aim the tagger to avoid hitting other players
- Players are not allowed to crawl under obstacles; climbing trees or buildings is strictly forbidden
- No barrel rolls, superman dives, or other intentionally unsafe action movie moves (do not jump over obstacles)
- Players cannot cover sensors with their hands or clothing (strategic use of cover such as terrain, trees or buildings is allowed)
- Head sensors must be properly worn and must be properly adjusted if they fall off during the game (the headband is not a necklace)
- Players are not allowed to leave the designated playing area with equipment
- Players should not aim at or engage with bystanders outside of the playing area
- Unsafe behavior will be identified and corrected by the game Operator; repeat offenders will be ejected from the game
- No intentional abuse of the equipment; please help keep our equipment in good working order. Breaking our equipment will incur charges.
- Physical or verbal threats against another player will result in an ejection from the game

Related Information:

- Customers are responsible for selecting a safe location
- Game Operators are responsible for identifying and marking off or removing potential safety hazards, as well as informing the customer
- The designated playing area will be clearly defined to ensure that all players are safe and easily identified as players in a game
- No players under the age of 9, or by the discretion of the Game Operator, will be allowed to use the taggers to avoid impact injuries
- Game Operators will not be penalized for enforcing the safety rules; safety is our number one priority
- The Game Operator has the right to terminate any engagement due to unsafe conditions like unexpected and unavoidable hazards, inclement weather, the presence of illegal drugs, excessive alcohol use, injury to a guest, abusive player activity, etc.
- No refunds will be provided if players or customers need to be ejected from the game for safety reasons.

Our equipment is 100% safe to operate but to avoid injuries we need to prevent collisions and falls. Treat each other with respect and stay within the playing area.
